TONIGHT

7 p.m.
I, Robot

Will Smith, Bridgit Moynahan

In the year 2035, robots are an everyday household item and have become more and more advanced. But each one is preprogrammed to always obey humans and under no circumstances to ever harm a human. Everyone trusts robots except Del Spooner. Del is one slightly paranoid detective investigating what he alone believes is a crime perpetrated by a robot. The case leads him to discover a far more frightening threat to the human race.

Rated PG-13 (intense stylized action, partial nudity) 115 min.

9:30 p.m.
Harold and Kumar go to White Castle

John Cho, Hal Penn

Both underdogs, Harold and Kumar decide to spend what would have been an otherwise uneventful Friday night satisfying an oddly intense urge for White Castle hamburgers. However, finding a suitable White Castle proves a highly difficult task, and the two friends wind up on an epic road trip.

Rated R (strong language, sexual content, drug use, crude humor) 88 min.

TOMORROW

7 p.m.
The Manchurian Candidate

Denzel Washington, Meryl Streep

During the first Gulf War, two American soldiers are taken prisoner by the enemy and brainwashed into becoming assassins. They return home as heroes, though Marco is troubled by dreams and vague memories of his brainwashing. Eventually, Marco remembers what has happened to him and tries to get to Raymond Shaw, who is running for office, to convince him of what he's remembered.

Rated R (violence, language) 130 min.

SEPT. 19

7 p.m.
The Village

Judy Greer, Bryce Dallas Howard

The village seems picture perfect, but this close-knit community lives with the frightening knowledge that creatures reside in the surrounding woods. The evil and foreboding force is so unnerving that none dare venture beyond the borders of the village and into the woods. But when curious, headstrong Lucius Hunt plans to step beyond the boundaries of the town and into the unknown, his bold move threatens to forever change the future of the village.

PG-13 (violence, frightening situations) 120 min.
